Painting While You Watch

Many of you already know Jesse Crock—or at least know his work. Jesse's art is featured on many of the murals around town, particularly on the Mountain Toad building, the back of Miner's Alley and Vital Outdoors, and on the side of the Golden Moon Speakeasy. He is a Golden, Colorado-based artist with a love of climbing, cycling, and the outdoors. Jesse Crock is an elementary art teacher who finds that he often connects his work with the playfulness of his students and is inspired by the energy they bring to the classroom. As an outdoor enthusiast, he brings the viewer's eye to places that are not often painted. You may have noticed him working all evening, and now you have a chance to purchase the painting he created here tonight.
